
No official grading reports are present. Faster termination does not imply better solving throughput.